International Congress for Joint Reconstruction (ICJR) Announces Cooperative Effort with American Academy of Hip and Knee Surgeons (AAHKS)

Joint Venture Will Highlight Presenters at 2011 Annual Meeting

(San Diego) – The International Congress for Joint Reconstruction (ICJR) and American Association of Hip and Knee Surgeons (AAHKS) have partnered together to capture all of the poster presentations from the 2011 AAHKS annual meeting.

Videos of presentations from the AAHKS 21st Annual Meeting will be available for viewing on the websites of both ICJR and AAHKS. The Annual Meeting took place on November 4-6 in Dallas, Texas.

“On behalf of the Board of Directors and Founding Members of ICJR, I'm delighted at the cooperative effort between AAHKS and ICJR to capture and publicize the excellent posters at the 2011 AAHKS,” stated W. Norman Scott, MD, FACS, President of ICJR. “There’s so much good information and, as an educational organization, ICJR is honored to share these poster presentations in a timely fashion to the orthopaedic community.”

Founded in 2007, ICJR is an independent, non-profit organization committed to building the next generation of education and community for physicians involved in joint reconstruction.

Established in 1991, the mission of the American Association of Hip and Knee Surgeons is to provide leadership in advocacy, education and research to achieve excellence in hip and knee patient care.

The AAHKS Annual Meeting (held in the fall) addresses a broad array of scientific topics, such as implant design, results, surgical techniques and complications of primary and revision TJA, as well as the latest information available on socioeconomic issues affecting your specialty.
